

The map shows a topographic representation of a region with contour lines and elevation points. A red line outlines a specific area, labeled "Předpokládaný rozsah akce" (Proposed scope of action). The area is situated near the village of Bystrov. The map includes various geographical features such as roads, rivers, and fields. Elevation points are marked with numbers, and the red outline follows a path that generally descends from the top left towards the bottom right, with some internal loops and branches. A white arrow points from the text label to the red outline.
